Information gaps

- Her professional networking profile could not be read because it requires sign-in; only the search listing was used.
- The feature “Inside the race for Caspian data talent” is paywalled, so only its search snippet was reviewed.
- No source yet describes how board and executive responsibilities are divided in practice after the September 2026 leadership change.
- A social media account under the same name could not be connected to her and was left unresolved.

Suggested meeting questions (suggestions only)

- How will responsibilities be divided between her role as Executive Chair and Rauf Sadigov's role as Chief Executive?
- How is Caspian Lantern Analytics using the Series B funding, particularly for engineering hiring and the planned launch in Central Asia?
- Which conclusions of the 2021 report “Grid Flexibility in the South Caucasus” have held up as more wind and solar generation has come online?
- What are the Baku Data Commons Foundation's current priorities, and how does her board role connect to Caspian Lantern's own work on data quality?
- How has her research leadership at Absheron Grid Partners shaped the forecasting products Caspian Lantern builds today?

Caveats

- Research assistance from public sources only; web coverage is never exhaustive. Missing information is not a negative finding.
- An official source (for example an employer biography) is not independent verification. “Accessed” dates are not proof that something is still current.

- Evidence labels describe the support behind each fact: Multiple sources, Official source, Self-reported, Single source, Snippet only, Conflicting sources, Inferred.
- No personality, trustworthiness, creditworthiness or hiring-suitability assessment is made.
